HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

For the 12-month period ended June 30, 2025, the Fund outperformed its benchmark, the S&P 500® Index. While the market’s finish to the year was strong, the journey from start to finish was far from smooth. The period saw a sharp 19% drawdown from its February high on April 8th, primarily driven by fears of an all-out trade war. However, the S&P 500® Index recovered from its April low and the year ended at a new high.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

Sector allocation had a larger effect on the portfolio. The performance of the Fund was driven by Consumer Discretionary, Energy and Financials sectors. Meta Platforms, Amer Sports and Visa were top contributors. The Health Care sector was the Fund’s largest detractor. Within the sector, UnitedHealth Group detracted the most from the return.

POSITIONING

The Consumer Staples sector weighting increased with the addition of Mondelez International. The Energy sector weighting fell with the sale of Baker Hughes. The Health Care weighting was lower with the decline in the sector return and the elimination of Agilent Technologies and Merck & Co. The Industrials weighting was higher with the new investment in Old Dominion Freight Line as well as additions to existing holdings. In Real Estate, we eliminated SBA Communications bringing the sector weighting down to zero.
