How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

For the 12-month period ended June 30, 2024, the Fund underperformed its benchmark, the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI).

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

Underperformance was driven primarily by financials, particularly emerging markets financials. Technology performed the best in absolute terms and in line with the benchmark while industrials contributed most meaningfully to outperformance. Over the last year we have experienced concerns over the merger between HDFC Bank and HDFC Ltd., changes to subsidiaries of microloans at Bank Rakyat in Indonesia and ongoing concerns over growth in China at AIA Group. We believe these are all temporary issues. Aerospace leaders GE Aerospace and Safran were the largest positive contributors within industrials. Both companies benefit from a favorable period of strong performance, continued recovery of flight activity post-Covid and limited investment requirements.

POSITIONING

The Fund’s largest exposures were to Financials and Technology with no exposure to Utilities, Real Estate or Energy. The largest geographic exposure was to the U.S. During the year we added Zoetis and AutoZone and exited Otis and GE Vernova.

PERFORMANCE

The portfolio delivered strong absolute performance throughout the reporting period, underperforming the benchmark. We believe the strategy is well positioned to benefit from our differentiated positioning in some of the leading technology franchises globally and further invest in a portfolio of diversified business models across sectors and regions.
