

SUMMARY OF SHAREHOLDER RIGHTS IN RELATION TO BROWN ADVISORY FUNDS PLC (the “Company”)

This document briefly details the rights afforded to you as a shareholder of the Company (a “Shareholder”). For the purposes of this document, a “Shareholder” only refers to an investor whose name appears on the share register of the Company. Further details on your rights can be found in the Company documentation as detailed below together with the applicable legislation and regulations to which the Company is subject.

A high-level summary of your Shareholder rights is as follows:

Shareholder Right	Explanatory Summary
Company Documentation and Information	You have the right to receive certain information about the Company and documentation related to the Company.
Redemption of Shares	You have the right to redeem your shares in the Company.
Shareholder Meetings and Voting	You have the right to vote on certain matters relating to the Company and potentially the sub-fund or share class in which you are invested.
Complaints	You have the right to make a complaint to the Company and/or to the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman.
Right to take an action	You have a right to take an action against the Company and/or the Depositary in certain circumstances.
Personal Data	You have rights under the data protection legislation in respect of the information the Company processes about you (for Shareholders that are natural persons only).

Company Documentation and Information

As a Shareholder you are entitled to certain documentation and information in respect of the Company including:

- the latest annual and semi-annual financial statements;
- the constitutional document;

- the latest prospectus; and
- the latest key investor information document of the share class or sub-fund in which you are invested.

The above information is available to you on <https://www.brownadvisory.com/intl/ucits-legal-document-library> and <https://www.brownadvisory.com/intl/kiid-library>. The Company also makes available certain other ancillary information to Shareholders, such as regulatory policies and procedures and the up-to-date net asset value per share for each sub-fund or share class of the Company, on this website: <https://www.brownadvisory.com/intl/ucits>.

Redemption of Shares

You are entitled to redeem your shareholding in the Company (or any part thereof) and receive the redemption proceeds relating to such a redemption within the timeframe and subject to such conditions as detailed in the Company's prospectus and the Company's constitutional document.

Shareholder meetings and voting

As a Shareholder you have the right to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company. You also have a right to attend and vote in meetings of the sub-fund or share class in which you are invested. The Company is required to provide you with written notice of any such meeting in accordance with the procedures and timeframes outlined in the Company's constitutional document. The voting procedures are also outlined in the Company's constitutional document (including voting by way of written resolution in certain circumstances).

Complaints

As a Shareholder you are entitled to make a complaint free of charge. The Company is required to ensure that the complaint is addressed promptly and effectively. The Company operates a complaints policy which is available to Shareholders free of charge from Brown Advisory (Ireland) Limited.

The details of our Complaint Management Function are as follows:

Brown Advisory (Ireland) Limited,
2nd Floor, 5 Earlsfort Terrace,
Dublin,
D02 CK83,
Ireland
Contact Email: BAIrelandOps@brownadvisory.com

In the event you are not satisfied with the response to your complaint you also have the right to refer the complaint to the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman at <https://www.fspo.ie/>.

Right to take an action

As a Shareholder in the Company, you may have a right of action against the Fund under certain circumstances, for example a breach of contract. You should consult your legal and/or professional advisors to understand your rights in such a situation.

There is currently no formal process to pursue a representative or “class” action in Ireland, although this situation may change in the future. Accordingly, any action(s) you may wish to pursue against the Company would need to be taken on an individual rather than a collective basis.

You also have a regulatory right of action to pursue the depositary of the Company (the “Depositary”) in respect of (i) any loss of an asset held in the custody of the Depositary or any delegate of the Depositary or (ii) of any other losses caused by the Depositary’s negligent or intentional failure to properly fulfil its obligations under applicable regulations provided that this does not lead to a duplication of redress or to unequal treatment of shareholders in the Company.

Shareholders also have other remedies available as outlined in the applicable legislation governing the Company.

Personal data

Shareholders that are natural persons have rights under the Irish data protection legislation in relation to the information the Company and the its service providers may process about you. These rights include the right to request access to the personal data the Company holds about you. Further details are available from the Company’s privacy policy at <https://www.brownadvisory.com/intl/privacy>.

This document is intended to be a summary of the rights of a Shareholder in the Company. It is non-exhaustive and you may be afforded rights under other legislation which is not specifically referenced above. You should consult your legal and/or professional advisor(s).
